Mayor under fire over EU referendum post speaking to police about her personal safety following recent events relating to a post she made on

A petition has been set-up calling for Cllr Kayes to stand down as mayor after comments made in the wake of the EU referendum

Cllr Kayes has apologised for any offence caused by a post on social media which read: '70% of young people voted to stay in the EU. F you the bigoted older generation for screwing with #TheirFuture'

Cllr Kayes claims the post had been made in a private capacity and was intended for just friends and family. But she said it was circulated to the public after her account was hacked.

Cllr Kayes has been in contact with the police and Facebook over the breach of security by someone who she says is trying to attack her reputation.

She said: "Like the Mayor of Lyme Regis, I have managed to offend some people by something I have said, and like my colleague in Lyme I am very sorry to have caused of-

Facebook account in which I communicate with my friends and family and most definitely not a public statement

"The account was hacked and my personal privacy breached. The content was then shared as though it were a public statement made by me as mayor. It was not. The matter is now with the police.

"Like everyone else, I sometimes say things I later regret in the heat of the moment.

"I understand that people were offended by the way I expressed myself and I would like to apologise.

There have been calls on social media for Cllr Kayes to resign as mayor over her post with some calling it "disgusting behaviour".

Some have questioned the truth in her claims that her page was hacked.

One said: "No one hacked her Facebook page - there was no need to. Anyone could view the comment and share or "To say that it was a private comment made in a private forum is completely disingenious [sic]. It's this that I personally find more offensive than the Facebook post itself."

One commented that "a person in her position should not be posting comments like that to anyone over the internet" and another said "she has been dishonest as well as very foolish.

Jim Hoskins, Bridport resident, said: "As first citizen of this town to use language like that is totally wrong and not far from hate crime. I think she should resign."

The petition calling for Cllr Kayes to step down as mayor can be found at https://you.38degrees.org.uk/petitions/ should-ros-kayes-stand-down-as-the-mayor-of-bridport

But others have come out in support of her. Dr Andrew Mayers, a senior lecturer at Bournemouth University, said: "I would like to add my word of support to Ros Kayes and strongly hope that she remains Mayor of Bridport.

"I have worked with Ros on mental health projects across Dorset. I am sure that the people of Dorset already know about the fantastic projects that Ros has done for the disad-

"It would be a terrible shame that her great work is undermined by political motivations that have nothing to do with individual comments that might have been said in pri-

"West Dorset needs passionate campaigners like Ros who truly represent the needs of its residents

Bridport resident Rebecca Hilton said that Cllr Kayes is entitled to make private comments.

She said: "This is absurd, while the person who holds the office of mayor has to remain neutral whilst working in that capacity, everyone who votes in the mayor are aware of that person's political allegiance, which they should have every right to maintain in their private life.

"All the people who are voted in as mayor are firstly in the position of being able to be mayor because they have been politically active in their local area councils and therefore we have to accept their political stance, whether it tallies

"To hack a person's account for the sole purpose of exposing things they have said in confidence is disgusting and shameful.

"I have known Ros for many years and have been helped by her in the past and know many others who have also been helped by her. She is a tireless campaigner and if we malign her we will lose her.

"With all the cuts that are still to come and a period of political instability ahead, we need people like Ros to fight Bridport's corner.

"Come on people, leave her alone and recognise the excellent service she has given to the town. I can't think of anyone better to be mayor.

Cllr Kayes praised the support she had received from the community.

She added: "I would like to thank all the people in the town who have been so lovely to me as I go around

■ Cllr Ros Kayes is under pressure after comments . she made on Facebook following the result of last week's EU referendum over the last few days. Pulling over in their cars to ask if I am ok and if there is anything they can do, giving me lots of hugs, expressing their anger at what is happening and also thanks especially to the person who left a big piece of apple cake on the front seat of my car.

"I am so sorry to have offended anyone but people in Brid port are so kind and supportive. I hope we can all move forward together now."

Choosing tiles can seem difficult, with so many different materials sizes, patterns and finishes available.

Ask the Tile Expert, Charlie from The Tile and Stone Centre has put together some facts and tips to help you make a well informed choice for your home and outside your home.

Ceramic

Ceramic tiles are hard wearing, easy to lay and work well with underfloor heating. They can be used on both wall and floor and because they are waterproof are especially suited for wet rooms and bathrooms.

Ceramic tiles are easy to clean and maintain.

Porcelain

Porcelain is extremely hard wearing, making it ideal for busy areas of the home. Use them on both wall and floor and even outside. (Unglazed tiles should be protected with a sealer). Charlie can advise on sealing and maintenance.

Natural Stone

Natural stone is both beautiful and extremely hard wearing. Hewn from the earth it is naturally hypoallergenic and makes an ideal choice for any floor in the home.

Marble is a very popular choice. It's easy to polish, can be honed and like wine improves with age. Once sealed it can be kept clean with a damp mop after vacuuming.

GEOFFREY Meakin runs a small business called West Dorset Websites with help from his wife Laura.

He grew up in Bournemouth and met Laura whilst studying publishing degrees at University in Oxford, after several years living in East Sussex they decided to move back to Dorset in 2014 to be closer to family.

During this time Laura developed a health problem which meant Geoffrey had to leave his job to care for her and

In order to keep a little money coming in he designed his own online business.

TELL us a bit more about West Dorset Websites?

I realised, many of the businesses offering web design and internet services were based in Bournemouth and Poole. Despite west Dorset having the third largest number of start-up businesses, there didn't appear to be many companies offering affordable web design solutions here in the west of the county, particularly in rural areas.

So, I started learning some coding, studied a diploma in online marketing (I'm currently studying a diploma in social media marketing) and began reaching out to local businesses.

I am now heavily involved with the Cerne Valley Business Group and helping to run and maintain the Cerne Valley portal as well as redesigning and remarketing the Minterne House and Gardens website, along with other exciting projects with other local businesses.

WHAT do you like to do in your spare

In terms of hobbies I have four children who keep me very busy.

When time allows I train Brazilian Jiu Jitsu and have for several years - it's a great outlet for stress!

I also like to play guitar, I'm a keen music and

ARE you a member of any local organisations or charities?

I recently joined the Cerne Valley Business Group and I'm working closely with them to help grow tourism and community in Cerne via cernevalley.co.uk..

WHAT is your favourite thing about west

My favourite thing about West Dorset is just how much there is to do and discover.

Lulworth Cove, West Bay and Durdle Door in the summer, Brewery Square and Poundbury providing restaurants, coffee shops and entertainment in the winter.

Living near Cerne Abbas is good as I believe it has the largest number of pubs per residents

The Plaza cinema is great as well. Plus all the schools are great too. What more could you wish for really?

WHAT do you like most about your job? The thing I like most about my job is working with clients, finding out what their goals are and working together to achieve those goals. Getting great feedback and praise when they like what you've produced for them is a great feeling too. Obviously, it's a real drag working from home, sitting in the garden on a sunny day with a laptop and cold beverage but I try to soldier on.

MP Letwin to head Brexit unit as country prepares to leave the EU

WEST Dorset MP Oliver Letwin will lead a government Brexit Unit, which will come up with options on how leaving the EU will work, after officials failed to make contingency plans in advance.

He will have a "facilitative" role in the civil service unit, set up by David Cameron to prepare the way for Brexit and report findings in the autumn.

The new unit was approved at a special cabinet meeting today (Monday, June 27th) as ministers met to discuss Britain voting to leave the European Union last week.

The team will comprise officials from the Treasury, Foreign Office and Cabinet Office who will present their options and advice to the new prime minister and cabinet when they are appointed in September.

PM David Cameron said: "Clearly this will be the most complex and most important task that the British civil service has undertaken in decades.

"So the new unit will sit at the heart of government

"So the new unit will sit at the heart of government and be led by and staffed by the best and brightest from across our civil service.

"It will report to the whole of the cabinet on delivering the outcome of the referendum, advising on transitional issues and exploring objectively options for our future relationship with Europe and the rest of the world from outside the EU.

"And it will be responsible for ensuring that the new prime minister has the best possible advice from the moment of their arrival."

The Leave campaign triumphed in the EU referendum last week, with more people turning out to vote than in last year's general election.

Brexit won with just 51.9 per cent of all votes cast as more than 30million people went to the polls

The results of the EU referendum in West Dorset closely mirrored the national picture with 51 per cent voting to leave – 33,267 of the votes – and 49 per cent – 31,924 votes – opting to remain.

Overall in the South West, 3,172,730 people came out to vote giving Brexit 52.6 per cent of the vote and Remain 47.4 per cent.

MP Oliver Letwin, who supported the Remain campaign, said: "The electorate has made a decision. The important thing now is for us all to come together and work together in order to provide the best future for our people."

Prime minister David Cameron announced that he would step down in October following the result as he had pushed for the country to remain.

He said 'fresh leadership was needed' but he would 'steady the ship' while he remained as PM.

lan Girling, chief executive of Dorset Chamber of Commerce and Industry (DCCI), said: "The country has spoken and now we must look forward.

"Whatever anyone's political colours and given the implications of this decision and immediate consequences, it is clear there will now be legitimate concerns about the local and national economy in post-EU Britain. We also now face political uncertainty with the resignation of the PM.

"The priority must be the economy and market stability. Businesses will want to see a measured approach from the government with clear guidance about the timeline for exit from the European Union.

"DCCI will continue to share essential information with members about how decisions will affect them over the coming weeks, months and years.

"As a non-partisan organisation, DCCI will continue to lobby and represent Dorset businesses and its members' interests at the highest level."

Woman rescued from the rocks

EMERGENCY services have helped free a woman in her 20s who became trapped amongst rocks under East Cliff in West Bay, after reports she fell from a height.

The Coastguard, later accompanied by Dorset and Wiltshire Fire and Rescue Service and the South Western Ambulance Service, were called just before 10pm on Monday, June 20th by members of the public who found the casualty. She had reportedly been trapped for around 40 minutes.

A spokesperson for the West Bay Coastguard said: "Once on the scene the casualty was found to be wedged in rocks up to her thigh with her knee and ankle bent at an awkward angle.

"The casualty reported to have fallen from height and could not remember how she found herself in her current position."

Whilst the team waited for the paramedics, they stabilised her with a neck brace and made her as comfortable as possible.

Once on scene, paramedics administered pain relief and all the services worked together to extract the woman from the rocks.

A spokesperson for the South Western Ambulance Service said: "We were called at 9.34pm and we sent one ambulance and our hazardous area response team.

"It was a female in her 20s who had sustained leg injuries and she was taken to Dorset County Hospital for further treatment."

The spokesperson for the West Bay Coastguard added: "This was an excellent example of the various emergency services working together and we wish the casualty a speedy recovery.

"We also want to thank the members of the public who initially called for help and who stayed with the casualty until the emergency services arrived.

"We want you to enjoy yourself this summer but we also want you to remain safe.

"Under no circumstances should you attempt to climb the cliffs. Stay well away from the cliff edge and do not walk directly under the cliffs or over rock falls."

Town council to take on the TIC

TOWN councillors have agreed to take over Bridport's tourist information centre (TIC).

Members of the council's finance and general purposes committee recommended to take over the management of the service from West Dorset District Council (WDDC), which was agreed by the full council at their meeting last week.

The transfer is subject to approval from the district council's executive committee, and is hoped to happen in October.

Bridport TIC was under service review by WDDC, which could have seen it axed, but under the management of the town council, the service will continue.

It was also agreed for the town council to receive a one-off transitional fund of £150,000 from the district council.

Town clerk Bob Gillis reported that the TIC currently makes an annual deficit of around £40,000 and the payment from WDDC could cover those loses for three years, until which time the managing of the service would have improved and the deficit decreased.

It is also proposed to make the manager post full

As part of the agreement, the town council will also hold the licence to run the market, which would save them £14,000 in fees they currently pay to WDDC.

In a report presented to the committee by Mr Gillis, it said: "The transfer will ensure that the tourist information centre will continue to operate with no change to existing hours or staffing.

"Overall, it is considered that the transfer will be beneficial for the town council and the town, ensuring that the TIC is safeguarded for the future and build on the existing good working relationship between the TIC and the town council.

"It would also greatly increase the town council's marketing and promotional capability and assist with income generation."

Bus strikes set to continue next week

WEST Dorset is set to suffer more disruption to its bus services after First Dorset bus drivers announced they will strike for a third week over

In addition to drivers striking this week on Wednesday, June 29th, Friday July 1st and Sunday, July 3rd this week, they will also strike on Monday, July 4th, Wednesday, July 6th, Friday, July 8th and Sunday, July 10th. Unite, the union representing the bus drivers, has also notified First Dorset that its members will be 'working to rule' from Monday, July 4th. Marc Reddy, managing director of First Dorset, said that the notification of further industrial action is set to damage the local economy, significantly impacting on the long term ability of First Dorset to grow its business. He said: "The union's reckless action to hold further strikes is designed to cause as much damage to our business as possible and it is done so without any consideration for our customers, or the future of the company as a whole.

"Union officials also appear to have little regard for the damage they are causing to the local economy, much of which is seasonal and which relies on visitors being able to get out and about to shops and leisure attractions.

"Ultimately, this extended action will have an impact on the affordability of any pay settlement that is finally negotiated. Therefore, this action is not only completely unnecessary, it is also counterproductive.

"The only way to resolve this dispute is through negotiation, but disappointingly, the union has chosen not to engage in discussions with us and to date it has refused to go to ACAS [the government body that works to resolve employment disputes] for a formal attribution settlement.

"Going to ACAS means that industrial action would have to be suspended for the talks, but the union will not go.

"Instead, they seem more content to disrupt the ordinary, hardworking people of Weymouth and Bridport than to negotiate a fair and reasonable settlement for their members. This is hugely

"I would urge the union once again to get back to the negotiating table so that we can resolve this dispute as soon as possible and spare our customers any further inconvenience."

Unite regional officer Bob Lanning said: "We have reached the 'stuck record' stage. I get emails from the management saying we should talk, but there is never any hint of an improved offer to eradicate the pay disparities across the First Bus 'family' in the West Country. "We understand that local shops and businesses are being hit by the strikes - our members don't take this action lightly, but they are fed up with being the 'poor pay relations' and with the point blank refusal of management to rectify these pay anomalies, despite seven months of

www.viewnews.co.uk

"Unite does not want the Weymouth and Bridport economies to suffer as the holiday season gets into full swing. Local shops should put pressure on the bus company to get around the table for constructive talks. We are ready for talks at any time, any place."

Services running during strike days include:

- Service X51 (Dorchester to Bridport and Axminster) - Operating hourly between 07.00
- Service X53 (Weymouth to Bridport and Axminster) - A limited service will operate between Weymouth and Bridport only, on an hourly basis between 07.00 and 19.00.

Services not running include:

- Service 53 (Bridport to Beaminster) Service will not operate. People wishing to travel in this area are advised to contact Traveline South West for details of other operators' services:

Is fibre broadband really 'essential'?

■ I NOTE from your article (pg3, last week's View From) that both a spokesperson for Superfast Dorset and councillor Ros Kayes are seeking to maximise the uptake of fibre broadband in the Bridport and Beaminster areas.

Through government and local taxation we have been forced to contribute to the provision of fibre broadband in these areas whether we wished to or not.

Perhaps the low level of uptake is because a) an increase in the subscription is required – the article suggests £10 per month (i.e. equivalent to my wine bill for one week – which to choose? no contest!) and b) because the speeds available via existing copper wiring (typically 6M bits/sec) can easily support both Skype and the streaming of catch-up television programmes.

When our taxes were being voted to fund Superfast Broadband it was described as 'essential infrastructure like water, electricity and gas'.

My property has mains water (it was 'lucky' to lie on the route of a water main laid from Broadwindsor to Blackdown). I am told that the mains electricity service was connected in 1993... at a cost to the resident at the time of £12,000.

And I am still without the 'essential' mains gas. So why have our taxes been used to provide faster broadband which doesn't seem to be a very high priority amongst the electorate and not to extend the coverage of mains gas which I confidently predict would achieve a far higher take

Big turnout for triathlon

HUNDREDS of people gathered at West Bay to take on Beyond Events' triathalon.

Among the eager participants was Matt Bosher, who was raising money for the Kingfisher Ward at Dorset County Hospital who looked after his son, and Barbara Hackworthy, who is doing multiple events this year to celebrate her 60th birthday.

A spokesperson for Beyond Events said: "The day was a great success and a fantastic spectacle for West Bay with over 200 on the start line.

"It achieved exactly what we wanted to achieve and that was to get more people involved in physical activity and we will return next year bigger and better and adding a junior aquathon.

"However, none of it could have happened without the support of local business Jhai building control who sponsored the event, and Happy Homes Plumbing and Heating and Turner Build. "Also, the event couldn't happen without the marshals and the residents of West Bay being so patient so we must say a big thank you to them."

The winners were Kit Walker and Kerri-Ann Upham for the Olympic distance, Nathan Wilmington and Kirsty Heard for the sprint distance, and Adam Gale and Josephine Corban for the duathalon.

Former champions go head-to-head at annual nettle eating competition

TWO former champions went head-to-head in the annual world nettle eating competition earlier this month.

The traditional event, which takes place at The Bottle Inn at Marshwood, involves competitors having to eat as many two-feet stalks of stinging nettles as they can in one hour, which had been picked by local farmer Dave Hutchings the night before.

Last year's winner Peter Wellman from Axminster, who got through a world record 96ft, narrowly lost his crown to Philip Thorne from Colyton, champion in 2014, who munched through 86ft in the hour and regained his title.

Both men were disappointed not to be the first to eat 100 feet of nettles and Mr Thorne said the leaves seemed much bigger than last year.

The leading woman was once again Naomi Harris from Chard, who managed to equal her record total of 56 feet which she set last year.

cheer on the competitors and given plenty of encouragement by former world record holder Simon Slee, who acted as compere.

At the end, Philip and Naomi were presented with trophies from the sponsors of the nettle eating contests,

Black Cow Vodka. This event always arouses huge media attention and one national newspaper journalist, Neville Hawcock, the deputy arts editor of The Financial Times, was so fascinated he decided to travel down from London to

Shipton Gorge service will remember the heroes of the Somme

THE country will come together on Friday, July 1st, to celebrate the centenary of the beginning of the Battle of Somme, one of the bloodiest of World War One.

It an attempt to break the stalemate of trench warfare on the Western Front, the Allied High Command planned a major offensive along a 23 mile front in northern France.

By the end of the first day of battle, British casualties totalled 57,470 men, of whom 19,240 had been killed, making July 1st 1916 one of the blackest days in the history of the British Army.

The Battle of Somme came to an end on November 18th 1916 and there were over 600,000 allied casualties.

St Martin's Church in Shipton Gorge is holding a special Somme centenary remembrance service at 5.30pm on Sunday, July 3rd and all are welcome to attend.

There will also be a short ceremony at the memorial in South Street, Bridport, at 7.15am on Friday, July 1st and a service at St Mary's Church, South Street at 11am.

Wartime memories at Coneygar Lodge

STAFF and residents at Coneygar Lodge care home got into the spirit of their World War Two themed afternoon by dressing up in period costume.

As part of National Care Home open day on Friday, June 17th, the home was decorated with various posters and memorabilia from the time as they welcomed the public in.

There were also reprinted newspapers from the war and one of the residents, Mrs Quinn, allowed for some of her families original wartime items, including ration books, wartime letters home, recipe books and school reports, to be displayed.

Some of the recipes were used to make authentic wartime food, which went down well with both residents and visitors.

James Cross, director of Coneygar Lodge care home, said: "The afternoon inspired several of our residents to recount amazing stories from their childhood, which were lovely to hear. All-in-all everyone had an enjoyable afternoon."

Celebrating the 'Year of the English Garden'

GREENFINGERED folk from community allotments to private gardens and civic parks across Dorset are being encouraged to celebrate the 'Year of the English Garden' as part of Heritage Open Days this September.

The four-day festival, which celebrates England's local history, is joining in with the 300th anniversary of Capability Brown, one of England's greatest gardeners, by showcasing some of the most stunning public and private gardens in the country.

Visit England are also promoting 2016 as the Year of the English Garden to coincide with this occasion to celebrate the country's gardens. Loyd Grossman, patron of Heritage Open Days, said: "Heritage Open Days is a great opportunity to showcase the hidden histories behind the green spaces in your area.

"From formal, prize-winning horticultural landscapes, to allotments, pub gardens and community planting projects, every gardener has a story to tell."

There will be free access to the gardens and houses at a selection of National Trust properties, as well as lesser known private and public secret green spaces and community gardening projects.

Clara Govier, head of charities at People's Postcode Lottery, a sponsor of Heritage

Open Days, said: "This is the chance for proud gardeners to take part in Heritage Open Days and an opportunity for visitors to enjoy some of the secret gardens in their own communities."

Organisers will need to register their green space with Heritage Open Days by August 1st.

By registering, all participants will be able to apply for a free marketing support pack and their event will be listed at www.heritageopendays.org.uk from mid-

Waitrose boost for music festival

THE organisers of the Jurassic Fields 2016 Music Festival received a boost just two weeks before their third annual event with a grant of £1,000 from the Bridport branch of Waitrose.

The donation is part of Waitrose Music Matters, an annual scheme supporting local musical charities that have made an outstanding contribution to the life of the community.

This is the first time that a nomination from the Bridport branch of Waitrose has been successful; the decision being made at head office from applications from around the country.

Carter the Community Matters Champion handing the cheque to the Jurassic Fields organisers, Dan Broom (right) and Scott Morris.

Dan said: "We are very grateful for this generous grant from Waitrose and glad they recognise that music of all different genres is such a large part of the town's heritage now.

"We would like to thank the Bridport branch for supporting our application which will be used to help make the event even better."

Lorraine made a plea for more organisations to apply. She said: "This is the first time we have been successful, but shows that hard work and dedication has been recognised and rewarded with a grant.

"We nominate up to three organisations each year, so if there are any that think they qualify for a grant, they should make themselves known.

"They need to apply in store between January and March for consideration for next year's round of grants."

Tickets for the Jurassic Fields 2016 Music Festival which is on Friday, July 8th (including Doctor & the Medics) and Saturday July 9th (including Fun Lovin' Criminals) are available from Tourist Information Centres in Bridport, Dorchester and Lyme Regis or online at www.jurassic fields.com

Brit Valley treasure hunt boost for PICU

MEMBERS of Brit Valley Rotary Club raised over £400 through a car treasure hunt in support of Friends of PICU, the charity that supports patients and families of the Paediatric Intensive Care Unit at Southampton General Hospital.

Twenty-five members and friends of the club were sent hunting the lanes and villages of West Dorset looking for clues to cryptic questions set by member Stuart Broom.

The cars were waved off by Luke May who spent a year in PICU just weeks after being born, where he received superb care from skilled and dedicated consultants, doctors and nursing staff.

Now aged seven he and his sister Genevieve (6) handed out the clues and instructions prior to the event that took around two hours.

All cars navigated the course successfully to reach their final destination Haddon House at West Bay, where Paul, Jo and Darren produced a superb finger buffet as a donation towards the cause.

Donations from the drivers and a raffle at the finish raised £350 which with Gift Aid meant a cheque for £437.50 could be forwarded to Friends of PICU.

This event, coupled with a collection of £340 following a talk by Luke's mother Julia to club members in April, took the total donated to almost £800.

The Paediatric Intensive Care Unit provides first class care and treatment to over 900 critically ill children every year from all over the South of England and the Channel Islands.

Organiser Stuart Broom said: "I would like to thank all the members for their generous donations for what is a very worthy cause.

"We are extremely grateful also to Haddon House for donating the wonderful buffet and to RJ Balson for their donation of a meat voucher for one of the prizes."

Area's air ambulance now able to give life-saving blood transfusions

THE Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance can now offer a new life-saving service to residents, who can now receive blood transfusions at the scene of the incident.

A collaboration between the charity, Dorset County Hospital, Devon Freewheelers – volunteers who deliver blood, samples and medication to hospitals – the South Western Ambulance Service NHS Foundation Trust (SWASfT) and the Henry Surtees Foundation – which aims to help people with brain or physical injuries caused by accidents – has resulted in patients now being able to receive blood products.

Bill Siverwright, Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance chief executive officer, said: "To the lay person, the decision to carry blood in the ambulance seems very straightforward.

"However, in reality, it takes an enormous amount of careful consideration and detailed planning by a number of organisations to make it happen.

"Bringing together the experience and expertise of the air ambulance, Dorset County Hospital, SWAStT and Devon Freewheelers and the generous support of the Henry Surtees Foundation, epitomises what can be achieved through good collaboration. The whole really is much more than the sum of its parts and our patients will bear witness to that in the years to come."

Emergency blood transfusions are usually given to patients who suffer life-threatening bleeding caused by major trauma or acute medical conditions.

Around 40 per cent of trauma deaths are due to bleeding, so being able to carry and administer blood products to these patients before they go to hospital could be a matter of life or death.

In a bid to ensure that patients in extremis have enough blood to keep them alive until they reach hospital, Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance will carry four units of O type red blood cells, unlike many others who only carry two.

A further development is that 'Freeze Dried Plasma' will also be carried by Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance from June.

The charity reported that experience from the military suggests that if a patient is bleeding to death, they should receive both 'packed red cells' – which carry oxygen – and 'plasma' – which carries the clotting factors to help stop the bleeding.

The transfusion laboratory at Dorset County Hospital provides the air ambulance with four units of O type blood every 48 hours, which is delivered by motorcycle charity Devon Freewheelers.

If it is unopened after the 48 hours it will be collected by the Devon Freewheelers and taken back to Dorset County Hospital where it will be reissued and used.

Dr Ian Mew, consultant in anaesthetics and intensive care medicines on behalf of Dorset County Hospital, said: "Providing blood for the Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance critical care team to give at the roadside is something that we are particularly proud of.

"Our blood transfusion staff have worked very closely with the charity over the past year, installing specialist equipment in the laboratory and developing processes to ensure the blood is kept according to very strict criteria whilst on the helicopter.

"For the past three years, three of our consultants have been flying with the air ambulance and have been providing training for the critical care paramedics.

"By combining this with the provision of blood, Dorset County Hospital is proud to be making a difference to the wider community and looks forward to working with the charity to provide life-saving care into the future."

The set up costs of the project were covered by the Henry Surtees Foundation and totalled nearly £18,000.

They offered further support by agreeing to cover the leasing costs of a 4x4 vehicle, which is being used by the Devon Freewheelers as an additional resource to deliver and collect the blood.

For more information about Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance, visit www.dsairambulance.org.uk or by calling 01823 669604.

Successful open day for Mountjoy School

STAFF and childcare professionals, along with support from the local community, made the open day at Mountjoy School and triumph.

Members of the public were invited to come and visit the school in Beaminster on Wednesday, June 15th so that people could see what they do and to forge closer links with their local community.

Visitors were given a tour of the school, which included visiting the children in their classrooms and the facilities they have at their disposal.

They also had the opportunity to talk with several organisations who were there demonstrating what they had to offer along with information and support. Headteacher Jackie Shanks said: "We haven't had an open day for a few years and we really weren't sure what to expect.

"Invitations went out to local businesses and organisations and the response has been fantastic. Despite the rain, we had far more visitors than we had expected.

"It was great to be able to chat informally over a cream tea, thank goodness we had enough for everyone.

"Honestly what a great event for the school – maybe we should make it an annual event.

"Our grateful thanks go to the staff who made this event possible and to all the visitors for their support and interest in the school."

FIVE MINUTES WITH... CURTIS DOWLING

rience of dealing with antiques and identifying forgeries. He's appeared on TV shows Cash in the Attic, Put Your Money Where Your Mouth Is and Sun, Sea and Bargain Spotting, and more recently, Yesterday's Treasure Detectives. He talks about the shows highlights, what it's like to deliver bad news and how anybody can become an antiques expert

WHAT IS TREASURE DETECTIVES ALL ABOUT?

It's the need for people to get items authenticated to find out whether they're real or not. This is normally for two reasons: one because they are selling it because they're skint, and the other because they've had it for a very long time, it has a fantastic family story and they want to know whether the stories about it are true or not. The show picks 15 very different items and takes viewers on a journey to find out if they're real.

WHAT'S BEEN THE HIGHLIGHT FOR YOU?

We were asked to authenticate a pair of cufflinks that Neil Armstrong had owned, he'd received them from the then President of the United States, Richard Nixon. This guy's granddad had been given them by Armstrong because he was a chef at one of the presidential dinners for astronauts. He'd told the story for many, many years and was a bit of a celebrity because of it.

Yeah. He held his grandfather in high esteem, so even though these cufflinks, if real, could be worth half a million pounds, it was more about the sentimental side and carrying on the respect for his grandfather's fabulous history. He brought them to us and started talking about his grandfather, and he was in tears. It made great telly, but he also genuinely adored this man, so we had a difficult thing of finding out the truth, but also being very delicate about delivering any information.

ARE YOU GOING TO TELL US HOW IT TURNED OUT?

No, watch the show! PEOPLE MUST BE DEVASTATED IF YOU HAVE TO DELIVER BAD NEWS You have to remember we had all sorts of people on the show; this isn't the Antique's Roadshow where everybody is nice and everything's wonderful. Some of our contributors were lovely, like Mr Cufflinks. We also had a guy who found a dagger he thought might be worth a fortune, and he had a really sad story. There was another guy who thought he'd found a Warhol and he was genuinely broke - these could have been life-changing items for

WERE SOME OF THE CONTRIBUTORS

One turned out to be a criminal, so you want to deliver bad news so you can say, "Caught you!". Other people were just horrible, and you if they actually believed what they were saying. We've got some people you'll take an instant

HOW DID YOU BECOME A FAKES AND FORGERIES EXPERT?

I think it found me rather than I found it. To be honest, if I gave you a list of things I'm rubbish at, we'd be here all afternoon. Everyone's good at something; sometimes that skill is useless, and sometimes you turn out to be Andy Murray and the skill is very useful. But for me, it's always been this, from a very early age. It's arrogant to say I knew what I was looking at, but I did have a feel for it. There are a lot of people who do what I do from an antiques point of view, but I sort of slipped into the fakes and forgeries side, which I found interesting. It's paid the bills ever since. I couldn't imagine not doing it.

DO YOU HAVE ANY TIPS FOR COLLECTORS?

When it comes to antiques, it's very different from learning about anything else. I'm not likening myself to being a surgeon, but you couldn't be a surgeon without having done surgery. And I think doing antiques is similar purely for that reason - you can't learn about items from a book because it's about feel, weight, taste, smell, all those kind of things. So if people really want to learn about antiques, turn off the television - not our show, of course - stop Googling everything, go to antiques fairs and centres, go to museums, auctions, get amongst it, get up close and handle stuff, get a feel for them.

ARE YOU A COLLECTOR?

When you do it for a living, it's taking it home with you. So I've gone past the dealing stage now. I don't want a house full of antiques, I find it distracting. It's a lovely job and an interesting thing to do, but I do think that you need to take a step back.

WHAT ELSE ARE YOU UP TO AT THE MOMENT?

Our focus at the moment is that this show does the best it possibly can, we're putting ourselves out there to make sure it does. We're pretty proud of it. It's a sanitised show, it keeps things pretty simple so that everybody can watch it. I think your average person might not to be interested in antiques, but hopefully this will grab their attention because it's a little bit different. And once it's out there, I'll be open to new offers.

Schoolkids aim for palace in Queen's cake bake

YEAR Five pupils at Thorners Primary School in Litton Cheney have taken part in an initiative which could see them winning an exclusive trip to Buckingham Palace.

The children were involved in the creation of a birthday cake in honour of the Queen's 90th birthday, which was unveiled at a party at the school earlier this month.

Love British Food, the leading national promotion of British food, tasked schools around the country to make a birthday cake for the Queen but it had to be made with healthy, fresh and local ingredients.

The winning school will be treated to an exclusive trip to Buckingham Palace during British Food Fortnight – a celebration of British food and drink organised by Love British Food – from September 17th to October 2nd.

The cake was created in conjunction with local cheese makers Ford Farm to give it a

■ YEAR Five pupils at Thorners Primary School created a special cake for the Queen's 90th birthday, with help from local cheese makers Ford Farm, in a bid to win a trip to Buckingham Palace unique cheese based theme and flavour.

Ford Farm's creative consultant, Tanys Pullin, helped the children to craft a spectacle worthy of winning the trip to Buckingham Palace.

The cake was made up of several tiers of Ford Farm cheese, including a giant Coastal Cheddar base, which was hand-pressed by the children, and a cave aged cheddar layer was transported to the Wookey Hole Caves for maturing by the children.

One layer, a fruit cake, was baked and iced by the children in the school.

Each of the cheese layers were dipped in red and blue wax and, together with the white iced fruit cake, came together to produce a traditional red, white and blue theme.

The cake was also decorated with red, white and blue flowers made from wax by the children.

Headteacher Jyotsna Chaffey said: "The purpose of the initiative, which has been set by the organisers of British Food Fortnight is to teach children that there are alternatives to sugar in cake-making.

"It also encourages the use, wherever possible, of locally sourced ingredients.

"Ford Farm couldn't be more local and the partnership has enabled our school children to fulfil both of these criteria so we really believe we could be on our way to the palace."

Photos of the five winning cakes from different schools will be made into a montage and presented to the Queen as a birthday souvenir.

CAKE DRAWING COMPETITION

A SIX-year-old pupil at Thorners Primary School has also been named winner of a county-wide drawing competition to design a cake for the Queen's 90th birthday.

Kit Sullivan came out on top, winning goodies for himself and his whole class.

Multi-tiered rainbow cakes, sugar spun crowns and chocolate corgis were feature amongst some of the entries received in the 'design a cake fit for the Queen' drawing competition run by Local Food Links for Dorset primary school children.

Official opening of West Bay play area extension

THE official opening of the West Bay play area extension will be taking place on Thursday, July 7th at 12noon.

The initiative, a partnership project between Bridport Town Council and Bridport Young Persons Action Trust (BYPAT), which cost in the region of £80,000, has created a facility where people of all ages and abilities can have fun.

It has been made possible by a number of financial donations, including a contribution of over half of the total budget from children's services at Dorset County Council.

Cllr Maggie Ray will be speaking on behalf of the town council, whilst Arthur Woodgate will represent BYPAT.

Paralympian Paul Blake will perform the opening ceremony, assisted by town crier John Collingwood and representatives of the four consultation groups who have been involved throughout the project: the Sir John Colfox Academy, the Fishermans Arms and Flood Lane day centres and the Mountjoy School Council.

Invited guests from the various groups and organisations that have supported this development will include members of the town council, West Dorset District Council, Dorset County Council, the 2012 Olympic Legacy Fund, Dorset Parent Carer Council, West Dorset MENCAP, Bridport Round Table, Bridport Lions Club and West Bay Forum.

Sir Philip Williams, the High Sheriff of Dorset, will also be in attendance and members of the community are welcome to attend.

They received an enormous creative response from the children, with attention to detail, consideration of flavours, fillings, and of course the all-important decorations – from edible candles, bubblegum flowers and chocolate corgi's to gold balls, grenadier guards and 'dribbly' icing.

It was six-year-old Kit Sullivan from Thorners Primary School who scooped the award in the younger age group fro his vanilla palace cake. He won 'The Queen's Hat' book and cupcakes for his whole class.

Authors hold creative writing workshop

INTERNATIONALLY acclaimed Dorset-based authors, Robert Twigger and Jason Webster are holding a two-day workshop to help writers originate better and more creative ideas for their

'Beginner's Mind', the Bridport School of Writing course, will draw on the authors' many years of experience to allow students to tap into their deepest creativity and improve the quality of their writing.

Mr Twigger, winner of the Somerset Maughan and William Hill Sports Book of the Year awards, said: "The idea of Beginner's Mind comes from Zen Buddhism.

"I spent several years in Japan learning martial arts and one of the most important lessons was how to allow yourself to be open to the teaching, to remove the barriers towards progressing and moving forwards.

"There are lots of courses for improving your writing, but I realised that people wanted to improve their ideas, simply find inner creativity in all of us.

"It is about connecting with a playfulness inside you, a childish sense of joy, if you like, where making mistakes doesn't matter and you can have lots of fun. With that kind of freedom you can be really creative and have all kinds of ideas that might ordinarily be closed off."

Mr Twigger will be will be teaching the course alongside Jason Webster, acclaimed author of a dozen best-selling books of history, travel and crime fiction.

Mr Webster said: "I came to this idea through Rob and when he explained it to me, I realised that I had been applying myself in all kinds of areas, particularly learning languages. "By allowing yourself to flow and not worry about the consequences, you can make huge leaps forward, not least in writing.

"We still have a few spaces left but the idea is proving popular and we are already filling up.

"I think it will be great fun and incredibly helpful for people's writing – even our own."

The course, which costs £149, is limited to 12 spaces and takes place at the Chapel in the Garden on East Street on July 23rd and 24th.

It's the time of year when we Brits prepare to demonstrate our bravery, as we brace ourselves – no matter what the weather throws at us – to dine al fresco.

Ready to battle with the barbecue and wrestle unwieldy picnic tables, folding chairs and wobbly parasols?

You betcha - because nothing will deter us from enjoying that heady combination of good food and fresh air. Indeed, a recent survey by Karcher saw 80% of respondents state they'll persevere with plans for dining outdoors, regardless of showers or storms.

Nature, of course, may be beyond our control, but there's no excuse for a shabby table setting, as designers have transformed picnicware - once the poor relation of tableware - with stunning designs that make them suitable for use indoors and outdoors all year round.

So even if the skies let you down, at least make sure your setting is a feast for the eyes. And what better time to get cracking than National BBQ Week (May 30-June 4)?

We've grilled the foodie experts for their top tips...

FLORAL FEAST

Pretty floral patterns in soft shades conjure a country garden look, while bright blooms can evoke a sunny Mediterranean style.

"You can't beat an al fresco meal in a beautiful country garden. When my husband and I first started living together, I made a feast in our garden and got a violinist to come and play his favourite classical music. It was a pretty special date night," says Natasha Corrett, 33, creator of the Honestly Healthy foodie website, and author of Honestly Healthy In A Hurry (Hodder & Stoughton, £25).

"I keep food as simple as possible, with dishes such as Middle Eastern sweet potato salad, wild rice citrus and roasted radish salad, and beetroot burgers," she explains.

As for the settings: "I like a casual, informal look, with cutlery in kilner jars, so people can help themselves. My favourite tablecloth is white, with 'Healthy' hand-painted in huge green letters, [£375] from Summerill & Bishop."

TABLE TREATS

Marks & Spencer has a super range of melamine tableware to suit a traditional country garden tea party. Choose from the flower-scattered Spring Bloom designs, or the delicately patterned pink and white Rosalie collection, with side plates from £6 each. For a romantic occasion, a Spring Bloom 2 Person Wicker Heart Hamper, including plates, wine glasses, cutlery and table accessories, is a steal at £45. Their vibrant Peru melamine floral range is also a real winner: Salad Bowl, £8; Side Plate, £3; Round Tray, £15.

My favourite collection is Collier Campbell's Flowerdrop melamine range, featuring retro-style blooms on a white and aqua background: Dinner Plate $\pounds 7$; Side Plate, $\pounds 6$, Bowl, $\pounds 6$, Tumbler, $\pounds 5$. And for a luxury touch, consider a Ribbed Leaf Bowl, with matt nickel finish, $\pounds 33$, In-Spaces.

OUT OF THE BLUE

Blues are peaceful colours, conjuring sunny skies, glittering seas and lakes which will raise cheer even if the weather isn't co-operating!

"Nature offers what the indoors can't - natural beauty. I love the combination of water and a lush green landscape, so being beside a lake, an ocean, a river or a pond is my perfect setting for a picnic meal," says New Zealand-born chef Peter Gordon, author of Savour: Salads For All Seasons (Jacqui Small, £25).

"My most memorable al fresco meal was cooking and eating freshly caught sea-food and summer fruits on a boat jetty at beauty spot and wildlife haven Waterfall Bay, in Marlborough Sounds, New Zealand. Everything was perfect, from the weather to the food; I thought I'd died and gone to heaven. "I favour a rustic look for a table, with a plain white linen tablecloth, candles even during the day, and definitely chairs with backs, even if they're canvas, because comfort is all."

TABLE TREATS: Painting walls, fences and furniture in blue shades will set the scene, and Cuprinol's Garden Shades range includes some beautiful blues, such as Iris and Forget-Me-Not, £23.49 for 2.5L.

Talking Tables makes creating stunning settings easy, and their Coastal collection is well-priced and attractive. A stripe or spot design Bone China Mug, £8.50; Melamine Plate, £5.50, and Paper Lanterns, £10 for pack of three. House of Fraser's Linea Home range has an appropriate seaside-inspired Regatta collection, with fish design mugs, bowls and plates, currently on sale (so snap them up fast!) from £2.50 each, House of Fraser. Enjoy a clear horizon with blue Sky Coasters, £16 for set of four, Barnaby & Co.

HOT HOUSE TABLE

Turn up the temperature with a sultry setting, full of lush green foliage and tropical birds.

"I'm hooked on eating outdoors because it feels so liberating not to have four walls around you. My forthcoming wedding will be held in Puglia, Italy, followed by an outdoor banquet," says Shirin Kouros, who's co-authored, along with business partner Yasmine Larizadeh, The Good Life Eatery Cookbook (Ebury Press, £20). "We will be in the hilltops, surrounded by olive groves and looking out over the coast. I've already had a highly enjoyable tester session with family and friends, so I know it's going to be perfect.

"The menu will be just like our food - healthy, delicious and featuring dishes from our new book, inspired by a melting pot of cultures, from Mexican to Californian and Iranian.

"My table style is simple. I hate fuss, so sometimes I'll have just a table runner, otherwise a linen or cotton cloth, lots of fresh flowers in jugs, bowls of fruit, and pretty glassware."

Papa Le Gal return to headline Big Mix Festival

YOU ONLY need to ask this year's Glastonbury goers to find out that a festival tends to involve a lot of long toilet queues, shoddily assembled sleeping arrangements, and an incomprehensible amount of mud, writes Harry Bullmore.

However, this Saturday, July 2nd, B Sharp's Big Mix Festival looks to break this tradition. It will provide the opportunity to hear quality, local musicians, without requiring you to march through fields of waterlogged marshes.

Taking place at the Marine Theatre, Theatre Square and Gun Cliff Walk, Lyme Regis, the event offers family friendly fun from 2pm until 1am, with attractions ranging from great music to precision fire breathing. The festival itself is split into two parts. Between 2pm and 6pm, the event will take place outside the Marine Theatre. Admission into the festival site is free, but donations that will support the local music charity, B Sharp, are welcomed.

This outdoor event boasts an array of local, young, musical talent, including members of the charity's weekly sessions in Lyme Regis. During the afternoon there will be an acoustic area with local guest musicians sharing their vibe through a full-on, high-grade sound system.

DJ Will Lister, who has just released his debut record, 'Phantom EP'. Lister is originally from Lyme Regis, and is a product of B Sharp's weekly sessions. Asked about his experience working with the charity, he said, "B Sharp has undoubtedly helped me with my development as a musician ... It's provided me with skills that I wouldn't be able to obtain anywhere else. and it's a melting pot of talent from around the county." Lister was also full of praise for the event, now in its sixth year, adding, "Having been a part of it (B Sharp) since a very young age, I'm honoured to be asked back to play and take part. The event is always great fun, and a very special day." The day will also include family friendly activities, festival face painting, a skate event, quality food provided by The Galley Cafe and Dottie's Kitchen, and even the launch of a number of social enterprise ventures such as young entrepreneur Willow Ray's cake making and decorating business. This is another example of B Sharp's continued work supporting local, young people. They provide them with the tools needed to develop their skills, and a platform such as the Big Mix Festival, upon which they can showcase their talents.

At 6 pm the festival heads inside the Marine Theatre, with a line-up sure to keep feet moving until its conclusion at 1am. Tickets are necessary for this part of the event, with prices set at £7 for adults, £4 for under 18s and £2 concessions, and can be purchased from Lyme Regis Tourist Information, 01297 442138.

A line-up showcasing the best of the South West will include performances from B Sharp's own Hub Jammers. mesmerising folk three-piece Wildwood Kin, fresh from their performances at Glastonbury, and Bridport singer/songwriter Gris-de-Lin. Meanwhile, Lyme Regis' favourites Papa Le Gal will be headlining the festival, bringing their indefinably joyful genre back to the South Coast.

By bringing together this eclectic musical mix, the festival allows the local area to show off the diverse collection of excellent artists that it has to offer. Even the Jurassic Coast's most musically minded are sure to be kept entertained through to the early hours of the morning.

So, bring your family and friends for a fun fuelled day though you may need some sun cream, or even an umbrella, you can leave the tatty tent and wellies at home.

Thorncombe Battle of bands – a little bit of Glastonbury comes to Dorset!

WITH the ever-rising costs of attending musical events and festivals (like Glastonbury) it is sadly the case that a lot of families cant afford £100's and so miss out on the whole festival experience.

Enter stage left, TBOB (Thorncombe Battle of Bands), an event specifically intended to be more inclusive and at just £5 per person for the two nights of music this has to be the best mini festival ticket of the weekend and with camping available from just £5 for the two nights you can really get into the festival spirit!

TBOB is presenting 10 great local bands that will be battling it out to win a great prize over the weekend. The prize is a day in the recording studio being produced by industry professional Phil Nicholas. Phil has worked with such legends as Def Leppard, Brian Adams, West Life and Billy Ocean. Phil commented "I'm really looking forward to see what Dorset, Devon and Somerset have to offer with their up and coming musical talent. Its kind of fun too as the public will get a chance to vote their choice through to join the final four the judges select for Saturday night!"

TBOB is raising funds for Thorncombe sports club, a community club and all profits will go to the kitchen refurbishment project and so strengthen the community's facilities.

Phil Gordon, organiser "I am absolutely thrilled the line up of bands we have attracted and would like to thank all of our sponsors without who TBOB simply would not have happened. I need to give a special mention to Beviss and Beckingsale our key sponsoring partner who have been really supportive of what we are trying to achieve for the local music scene with TBOB.

It's really important to give up and coming musical talent the chance to shine. I'm sure they will get a real buzz playing to such an enthusiastic crowd. At TBOB it's all about the music and wanting artists to get the best out of themselves, playing to a full venue of people urging them onto success".

TBOB is part of the Thorncombe Beer and Cider festival which takes place on the 1st and 2nd of July. There's a full program of events from Friday night when all competing bands will start playing from 6.30pm. Saturday from 11.00am, there's a six a side cricket competition, family rounders, Hog roast, BBQ and other food outlets, sideshows and stalls before the grand finale of TBOB starting at 6.30pm.

Mud, Mud Glorious Mud!

Flanders and Swann's hit show heads to Dorchester

HAVING delighted audiences across the globe for the past decade, the Rolls Royce of Flanders Swann shows comes to Dorchester Corn Exchange on Saturday, July 9th.

Join multi award-winning comedian Tim FitzHigham and BBC Radio 4 musical maestro Duncan Walsh Atkins as they starch their beards and trim their dinner jackets, ready to bring back the mud, madeira and mayhem of Michael Flanders OBE and Donald Swann. The Masters of 1950s and 1960s madness, mirth and total silliness are paid affectionate tribute to in this evening of their words and music. Michael Flanders Donald bringing laughter and song to millions.

Mud, Mud Glorious Mud (The Hippopotamus Song), The Gnu Song, Madeira M'dear, The Gasman Cometh, and many of their other songs have passed into legend along with their anarchic sense of humour, wordplay and fun

In 2001 Tim FitzHigham and Duncan Walsh Atkins took to the stage in a theatre in Sussex to raise money for a small cottage hospital and Flanders and Swann - At the Drop of a Hippopotamus was born.

Fast forward to present day and with 10 sell-out tours across the UK, 7 successful Edinburgh Fringe festivals and a highly acclaimed show in Australia as part of the Adelaide Fringe Festival under their belts, Flanders and Swann has gone from strength to strength, and continues to bring the house down in fits of laughter and song.

Lifelong fans and the uninitiated alike will delight to see the boys breathe new life into the much-loved words and music of F&S, plus a few hidden gems along the way!

With generous support from the estates of Michael Flanders and Donald Swann, this show is definitely worth seeing. As Michael was the first to suggest, their songs were - and are - not sung nearly enough. Flanders and Swann is an attempt to redress this, and an attempt by Duncan's wife to re-dress him in a smart suit.

So join Duncan, Tim and the Hippo for the most sublime Flanders and Swann show since... well, since Flanders and Swann themselves!

Flanders and Swann come to Dorchester Arts Corn Exchange on Saturday, July 9th at 8pm.

To book and for more details call Dorchester Arts box office on 01305 266926 or website www.dorchesterarts.org.uk

Field Days

A Ridgeway Inspired Visual Art Exhibition

A BRAND new art exhibition inspired by the South Dorset Ridgeway and commissioned by Artsreach has been touring throughout Dorset this summer and will visit two final venues in July, accompanied by some exciting traditional craft workshops for adults and families to enjoy.

Stretching parallel to the coast, from Broadmayne in the east to Kingston Russell in the west, is a broad ridge of chalky downland, capped by acid gravels at Black Down, known as the South Dorset Ridgeway. With a steep escarpment on the south and a gently sloping landscape to the north, some 14 square miles within this landscape area feature at least 500 earthworks, showing evidence of man's occupation of the land since prehistoric times.

Featuring commissioned works from six local and national artists, plus brand new music by rising folk stars Ninebarrow, 'Field Days' officially opened in Litton Cheney at the beginning of April and was accompanied by leatherwork and willow weaving workshops. Following a time at Walford Mill Craft Centre in East Dorset, the exhibition moves back to West Dorset in July where it will be on display at Martinstown Village Hall from July 9th-10th, and finally at The Kingcombe Centre in Toller Porcorum from July 22nd-24th.

Artists Dan Bendel, Sarah Butterworth, Isla Chaney, Tessa Farmer, Susan Kinley and Amanda Wallwork have each created the Field Days exhibits in a variety of mediums, from mirrors, light boxes and paintings, to carvings, cartoons and sculptures, each responding to the archaeology, geology and ancient myths and legends of the South Dorset Ridgeway. As part of the Field Days project, award winning folk duo Ninebarrow have also written and recorded three new contemporary songs inspired by the area, which will be available to hear at the exhibition. A selection of works by Bill Crumbleholme, a potter with a passion for ancient pottery and Neolithic and Bronze Age techniques, will be displayed alongside the exhibition.

Alongside the exhibition at Martinstown, the Ancient Wessex Network bring The History Village to the village green from 11am-4pm on Saturday, July 9th. Visitors can enter the ancient village and see a huge variety of authentic and traditional activity, plus have a go at a variety of crafts including beaker pottery, bronze casting, Faience bead and Viking jewellery making. Then at the Kingcombe Centre, Dr Simon Timberlake of Cambridge Archaeology Unit will lead workshops in Tin & Copper Smelting on July 23rd and Bronze Casting on July 24th.

Entry to the exhibition and History Village is free but opening times vary. Smelting and casting workshop places are limited and so must be booked at £35pp. For further information or to book a workshop place, contact The Kingcombe Centre on 01300 320684. Explosive new theatre production comes to three venues across Dorset

ELECTRIC DREAMS is the explosive new play by critically acclaimed company, Dumbshow, inspired by the ideas in Naomi Klein's The Shock Doctrine. It will be performed at three venues across Dorset this July - Dorchester Arts Corn Exchange on July 6th, theMarine Theatre, Lyme Regis on July 7th, and Bridport Arts Centre on July 8th - before heading to the Battersea Arts Centre in London on July 12th.

Flanders and Swann

Combining Dumbshow's trademark storytelling style with urgent contemporary issues, Electric Dreams is a vibrant, unsettling and bold examination of the state of the nation explored through a human story, a love story.

Rose can't remember the first 18 years of her life. What happened to

She meets Sebastian, a man haunted by his own past, who encourages Rose to unravel the mystery of her missing years.

Rose turns investigator, piecing together her history from frag mented memories, documents and dreams - aided by staff in a soonto-be-closed library with their treasure trove of resources.

Electric Dreams journeys from 1950s Canada, to 1970s Chile, the 2003 Iraq war and the present day; but does exploring the past offer a warning for the future?

The play is accompanied by live music composed and performed by Rollo Clarke Director Michael Bryher said: "In The Shock Doctrine, Naomi Klein challenges the myth that over the past decades free-market capitalism triumphed across the globe democratically, and considers whether sometimes its advancements have been forced on populations unwittingly when they were too shocked or distracted to realise what was happening. The Shock Doctrine was published in 2007 before the financial crisis. We're applying Klein's ideas to a post-financial crash Britain. Was Britain in a state of shock in 2008?"

"Electric Dreams certainly feels like the most political piece we have made. We want our audiences to reconsider both where we've come from and where we're going and engage with a political debate about what kind of country we want to be. We also want to entertain them with a gripping story based on true events.'

Dumbshow was established in 2007 and creates fabulous and visually inventive theatre that asks questions about the world through telling stories.

Electric Dreams was created in collaboration with Camden People's Theatre and supported by the Wellcome Trust Arts Award, the Arts Council and the University of War-

Mods and Rockers

Which side were you on? FEW tribute bands can genuinely claim to have a genuine rock star in its ranks. But the Mods & Rockers Show has just that in front man, Johnny Warman. The show will appear at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis, on Friday, July 15th. Johnny was signed to Ringo Starr's record label, and had a string of hits in the 1970s and 1980s, including Screaming Jets', which featured Peter Gabriel.

"As a youth in the 60s, one of the biggest decisions you could make was whether to be a mod or a rocker, said, Johnny Warman, frontman of the band. "As soon as I heard The Who, I knew I had to be a mod. But being so young, I couldn't afford a scooter or any of the sharp suits. I'd catch the bus to hang out with my friends in town.

Johnny's passion for music began as a child. "I was walking home from school and passed a building where I heard music. I walked up to Dansette record player to find 'Love Me Do' by the Beatles playing. I was spellbound." In a happy twist of fate, Johnny later signed to Ringo Starr's record label and became the drummer's songwriting collaborator.

The Mods & Rockers Show show features over two hours of classic songs by Mod and Rock artists including The Who, The Rolling Stones, The Kinks, Jimi Hendrix, T. Rex, Eddie Floyd, The Equals, Toots & The Maytals, The Small Faces, Mott the Hoople, Chris Montez, The Animals, Pink Floyd, The Beatles and Procol Harum.

It follows Johnny and the band's storming appearance at the Marine Theatre last November with their Total Who Show. "Everyone who came will remember just how fantastic the night was," says Johnny. "We earned a standing ovation - and we're looking for a repeat performance with our Mods & Rockers Show."

Johnny Warman's Magic Bus has written and performed with many top international artists, including Elton John, David Bowie, Ringo Starr, Peter Gabriel, Asia, Julian Lennon, ABC, Cheap Trick, Bruce Springsteen, and Foo Fighters.

The Mods & Rockers Show starts at 8pm on Friday, July 15th at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis.

TIPS FOR ALTERNATIVE HEATING SYSTEMS

1. HEAT pumps are one environmentally friendly way to heat your home. Ground or air source heat pumps are most popular, as water source heat pumps aren't practical unless you have a lake, river or stream in your garden. Ground source heat pumps extract warmth from the earth and use it to heat your home or hot water. The (above-ground) pump is connected to a series of pipes (the ground loop) buried in the garden and can be used all year round, although you may need a back-up heating system in winter.

2. Air source heat pumps take heat from the air outside and use it indoors. They're either air-to-air pumps, which produce warm (and also cool) air and circulate it through fans, or air-to-water pumps, which supply your home's (wet) central heating system. Air source heat pumps can be less effective when it's colder than -5C, so another form of heating again may be necessary in winter.

3. If your home is heated by radiators, they won't get as hot with a heat pump as they would with a boiler - you'll need to have them on for longer or replace them with more powerful ones. The perfect partner for a heat pump is wet underfloor heating because both work at lower temperatures, but this type of underfloor heating isn't particularly easy to retrofit.

4. Biomass boilers are another eco heating option, ideal if you want to reduce your carbon dioxide emissions and have access to a regular supply of wood. These boilers burn wood chips, pellets or logs and can be used for central heating and hot water. The Energy Saving Trust (www.energysavingtrust.org.uk) says that an automatically fed pellet boiler for an average home costs £9,000-£21,000, including installation, so it's not cheap. However, if you replace an older gas heating system with a biomass system, you could save up to £360 a year, or up to £990 a year compared to an old electric heating system, according to the Trust.

By Julia Gray, Press Association

5. If you want to generate your own electricity and have a sunny roof or wall, solar photovoltaic panels are worth considering, but you could fit solar thermal panels, which heat your home's water, instead. According to the Energy Saving Trust, installing a typical solar water-heating system costs around £3,000£5,000, but the savings you make will be moderate. As well as the solar panels, you'll need a boiler or immersion heater to give you additional hot water and sometimes make the water heated by the panels hotter, especially in winter. You may also have to change your boiler and hot-water cylinder to ones compatible with the panels.

PRODUCT OF THE WEEK

HAVE maximum control over your boiler with the Honeywell Sundial RF2 Pack 2 Wireless Timeswitch (£159.49, Screwfix), which can be used on existing systems (it brings them into compliance with Building Regulations Part L), as well as new installations. You get both a wireless-enabled programmer (to be fitted by a qualified electrician) and a wireless room thermostat, which communicate with each other wirelessly and offer so many settings you're spoilt for choice. For example, you can program your heating and hot water differently every day to whatever suits you and your lifestyle. The Honeywell has a holiday mode, which is perfect for this time of year and ensures you don't waste heating and hot water when you're away, while the Extra Hour function enables you to switch the heating or hot water on for up to three extra hours without altering your usual settings, which could be very useful in winter.

HOW-TOTIP

USE a heatproof metal paint to paint radiators, as standard metal paint may blister. If you're using white, make sure it's a good radiator paint, such as Ronseal Stay White Radiator Paint in Brilliant White (£15.74 for 750ml, B&Q), otherwise it will discolour. Radiators paints are heatproof and designed not to yellow when they get hot, so your radiators should stay white for the long term.

Called the Sante Fe Team Wiggins Edition, just 500 examples will initially be available in July - each majoring on design and technology with subtle added detailing and high levels of the latest equipment.

Based on the Premium SE, the Team Wiggins Edition models will feature Dynamic Bending Lights, a Panoramic Sunroof, a Smart Electric Tailgate, Smart Parking Assist, Ventilated Front Seats and Smart High Beam as standard.

In addition Wiggins Edition models add subtle Team Wiggins badges on the front wings Side Bar Sport running bars and all-new 19-inch alloy wheels sitting on 235/55 R19 tyres and coloured in Dark Gunmetal. Customers

HYUNDAI Motor UK has launched a will be able to choose from five limited body colours: an all-new pearl-effect White Crystal as well as solid Creamy White, metallic Titanium Silver, metallic Ocean View, pearl-effect Phantom Black.

> These extras will not come with an inflated price tag though as the Team Wiggins Edition will cost £35,995 for the 7 seat 2.2 CRDi 4WD Manual -£705 less than the Premium SE. An automatic gearbox version will be priced at £38,295. Hyundai's 200PS 2.2-litre CRDi diesel will be the sole engine offered for the Team Wiggins Edition.

> Team Wiggins was founded by Sir Bradley Wiggins - seven-time Olympic medallist and the first Briton to win the Tour de France - last year and Hyundai's exclusive partnership will see five vehicles used by the team throughout the 2016 season.

The fleet will consist of two i40 Tourers, two Santa Fe SUVs and an iLoad van. Each car will be used to support the team throughout the 2016 racing schedule, including at the Tour of Britain and other races in Europe.

David Pugh, Hyundai's marketing director said: "We're proud to be supporting Team Wiggins this year. Sir Bradley is one of Britain's sporting icons and his team is innovative, dedicated and full of perseverance. We share that ethos at Hyundai and it's great to be able to celebrate this successful partnership by issuing a desirable twist on one of our own icons, the flagship Santa Fe. The Team Wiggins Edition is packed full of equipment, looks the part but crucially offers great value too. Buyers will need to be quick to snap up the 500-car run."

Sir Bradley Wiggins said: "It's great to be working with Hyundai this year the company is a great fit with a really positive spirit and attitude. The diversity of the cars at our disposal has already proved invaluable in the Tour of Yorkshire and the Santa Fe has been a range through its paces over the sumbig hit with the team. I'm very proud to put my name to this limited run of special Team Wiggins Edition models and am looking forward to putting the mer racing season and beyond."

Tucson 1.7-litre high-powered diesel with 7-speed DCT is now available for UK order HYUNDAI Motor UK's best-selling model, the Hyundai Tucson compact SUV, is now offered with a fifth powertrain option. A dynamic and efficient 141 PS 1.7-litre turbo diesel with seven-speed double clutch transmission (7DCT) and two-wheel drive (2WD) is available to order in the UK priced from £24,570 OTR for the SE trim, rising to £29,695 for the Premium SE derivative.

Hyundai Motor's in-house developed 7DCT system offers a choice between fully automatic operation and sequential manual gear changes, selected with the gear lever for greater driver involvement. The 7DCT provides improved fuel efficiency and lower CO2 emissions compared to a six-speed automatic transmission - emitting only 129g of CO2 and offering fuel consumption of 57.6 mpg on a combined cycle. The turbo diesel engine provides a rev range of 1,750 rpm to 2,500 rpm.

For further efficiency, the new powertrain comes with Hyundai's Integrated Stop & Go (ISG) system as standard, which is also available for the 1.7-litre (116PS), and the 2.0-litre 2WD (136PS) diesel engines as well as the 1.6-litre petrol engine.

The Tucson is one of the safest vehicles in its segment and received the maximum five-star Euro NCAP safety rating. It benefits from a solid body structure featuring 51% of ultra-high strength steel for improved torsional rigidity and impact resistance and a host of innovative passive and active safety features like Autonomous Emergency Braking with pedestrian recognition that can stop the car automatically if a crash is predicted. The Tucson's list of safety features also includes a Blind proaching vehicles, Rear Cross Traffic Alert which scans a 180-degree area behind the vehicle alerting the driver if there is approaching cross-traffic and the Lane Keep Assist System applying steering correction in case of unintended lane departure. Additionally the Active Hood cushions the is available to order in the UK now across the Tucson range from SE trim and above.

Battling teenage pairing can't save 2nd XI

Overseas players Nick Dinnison (14) and Michael van den Berg (23, 2x6) took the team towards the fifth batting point, but the lower order failed to contribute further and left the hosts with a competitive target of Countess Wear openers started cautiously and had 19 on the board be-fore Dinnison dismissed David Jarvis for 14 with the help of a fine catch from Van den Berg. Rhys Davies then made a furthe breakthrough when he trapped Neil Pateman Ibw for 5 with only 30 on the board. Wear continued to bat defiantly but the introduction of Whetlor changed the outlook dramatically. His 4.5 overs produced five wickets at a cost of only 10 runs. This devasby one over of off spin from South African Van den Berg that yielded another two wickets without conceding

But it was left to Whetlor to finish off the innings and claim his five wicket haul when he took the last wicket helped by a fine catch from Jack Lamb-Wilson.

UPLYME 2NDS XI 154 ALL OUT (5PTS) LOST TO COUNTESS WEAR 2NDS 157 FOR 5 (20PTS) BY 5WKTS

WHEN James Dunford clipped the first ball of the innings to the mid-wicket boundary he must have thought he was on his way to his fifth half-century of the season.

However, he attempted another ambitious shot in the next over and found his off stump had been clipped by the bowling of Carl Downes.

This was bad news for Uplyme who had relied on scores from their skipper to help them to three victories this season.

So it was left to the other recognised batmen to step up to the plate. Dave Norman could only add four before he was bowled, but Dave Matthews and Bruce Maltby tried to make amends and build a big part-nership. They were going well and whilst they were together an Uplyme victory was on the cards. Unfortunately, Matthews caught from the off spin of Mark Davey for 29. Sam Wooster added a brisk 13 before he was caught and bowled by Davey.

Maltby had top-scored scored with 44 and tried to hold the side together but when he was bowled by the slow bowling of Darren Rice the game seemed to be up.

The last pair of 15-year-old Gabriel

Maltby and 13-year-old Rob Shepherd came together with the score on To their credit the youngsters got ran hard between the wickets to put together a valuable partnership of 37 runs. Maltby eventually fell trapped in front to end the innings

Uplyme worked hard to make an early breakthrough and at 22 for 2 they had achieved their aim thanks to the bowling of Gabriel Maltby and Dunford.

However this brought Davey to the crease to play a fine innings of 63 and take the initiative away from the visitors.

Despite further wickets from Dunford, Emily Broad and Rob Shepherd Countess Wear strolled to victory.
The defeat leaves Uplyme back in the bottom two of the East Devon C Division League.

Lyme Regis Gig Club

Momentum rising for Lyme

FOLLOWING their success at the Weymouth regatta, Lyme Regis Gig Club increased their momentum with impressive results at Swanage, Caradon and last weekend's Ilfracombe meetings.

Top three places have been recorded across all categories at all of the meetings with some impressive wins, notably from their Men's A, Men's Vets and Ladies Supervets

In choppy, jellyfish-laden, conditions the Ilfracombe regatta was a platform from which the Lyme crew continued their good form with the Men's A winning their race after a thrilling finale.

Attributing to this victory was a manoeuvre on the final turn knownas 'tossing the oar'.

On the command from cox Jeff Legge, the bowside rower, Zac Hunt, tossed the oar from bowside to the stroke side pins, in doing so helping to propel the boat through a tighter turn on the marke.

After this the oar is returned to bowside, enabling them to power away and increase their lead going into the final straight to take the victory.

The Men's Vets crew followed the good fortune by winning their race with a similar finishing tactic.

The Lyme crew had enough Men's rowers to enter a second Vets team in a boat kindly loaned to them by Weymouth. After suffering a few technical issues with the boat 'Isolde' the Vets 2s crew managed to secure a 7th position.

The Men's Supervets team completed their race with a commendable 3rd place, with the Men's B team securing a 5th placed posi-

Well deserved credit must also go to the Ladies Supervets crew for posting an impressive victory after a course-long battle with the eventual second placed boat.

Land and sea training continues for the club in readiness for the next meeting at Bridport.

Lyme Regis Gig club would like to take this opportunity to thank the organisers and helpers at the Ilfra-combe club for making the event an enjoyable one.

Thanks also to OTTER BREWERIES for their continued support.

Beaminster clinch third wain despite rain

Dorset Funeral Plan League PREMIER LEAGUE

SWANAGE (5) V DORCHESTER (5) MATCH
CANCELLED

LEAGUE leaders were frustrate

LEAGUE leaders were frustrated when their game at Swanage was called off following persistent rain showers that prevented the game starting.

MARTINSTOWN (5) 187 LOST TO WIMBORNE & COLEHILL (20) 269-5 BY 58 RUNS (REVISED TARGET 245)

MARTINSTOWN captain Ed Nichols admitted that he could have no complaints about the result.

Winning the toss the visitors chose to bat and openers Colin Randall (87) and Marcus Cook (50) put on 150 before Liam Banfield (3-37) removed both as well as Simon Woodruff (6) to give Martinstown hope at 162-3.

However, Mark House (58 from 51) maintained the pressure and Wimborne set a formidable target with 269-6 from their 50 overs.

Rain interruptions reduced the target to 245 from 41 overs, but Martinstown got off to the worst possible start. Matt Camp was promoted to open the innings to take advantage of the power play but he got a good ball from Woodruff and departed for a duck.

However, Lee House and Nichols added 82 before House (38) was caught by Harry Beardsley off his own bowling.

The spinner, helped by some misjudged shots, came into his own after the break claiming 7-41, and despite the best efforts of Steve Bishop (49) Martinstown fell short.

Nichols said: "It was a lovely track and speaking with a couple of the lads after we agreed that for the first time this season, it wasn't down to poor bowling, we were batted out of the game.

"The ball wasn't really swinging and they were very positive with their approach. The spinners gave us a certain amount of control, but we did miss a couple of chances.

It was a biggish target, but we did chase a similar one down earlier in the season.

"Despite losing Matt (Camp), at 91-2 with 20 overs left, we thought we still had a chance. However although Beardsley got the wickets, all their bowlers did well in containing us, and as the runs per over increased so we had to take chances. Steve (Bishop) played very well, and dug in to try and gain us batting points.

"We can't complain, it was just a case of being outplayed."

COMPTON HOUSE (6) 149 ALL OUT LOST TO CATTISTOCK (20) 283-9 BY134 RUNS CATTISTOCK went top of after this comprehensive win over previous league leaders Compton House with a solid batting display.

Jon Legg (33) and Martin Langford (52) gave them a great start after an opening stand of 98 after winning the toss. However both went within a few runs of each other and with Steve Tucker running himself out for a duck were soon 111-3. However a 75 run fourth wicket partnership between Liam Toohill (42) and Joe Baggs (47) restored Cattistock's advantage, before Compton hit back to remove both as well as Steve Baker (4) and Ollie Lee (0) to leave the visitors 207-

However Bradley Damen with an unbeaten 44, and captain Ben Golledge (19) ensured a health target with an eighth wicket stand of 57.

Lee was in devastating form when Compton House replied. In what scorer Richard Langford described as one of the best opening spell of bowling he has seen, Lee ripped out the heart of the hosts main run makers by bagging 4-25 from his nine overs; three bowled and a leg before victim. Damen backed him up with his first five over spell costing just 11

49-4 became 50-6 as Toohill (2-37) bagged a brace, but John Frankes (56) and Richard Millard (25) steadied the ship with a seventh wicket partnership of 73, but once Legg (2-32) broke through the game was up and Cattistock romped to victory.

STALBRIDGE 2ND (0) 143 LOST TO PORTLAND RT (18) 144-8 BY 2 WKTS N ALL-ROUND performance from

AN ALL-ROUND performance from Simon Profitt saw Red Triangle back to winning ways after two defeats. First he claimed 4-15 after Stal-bridge had made a confident start, before top scoring with 33 as Portland squeezed home with one ball to spare.

Captain Matt Chant topped scored for the hosts when invited to bat with 59, and he and Tom Hatcher (26) put on 63 for the first wicket before Proffitt broke the partnership.

Chant continued to be the glue to the home innings as Scott Males (3-20) and captain Matt Randall (1-32) joined Proffitt to tie the batsmen down with economical spells off their nine over allocation to restrict Stalbridge to 143 all out.

Nearly all the Triangle batsmen achieved double figures as they too had to content with some tight bowling.

But it was the fifth wicket partnership if 52 between Proffitt and Randall (23) that was decisive and in the end it was left to Dave Adkins (12no) to secure victory with just one ball left.

COUNTY DIVISION 3 BEAMINSTER (19) 164-6 BEAT STURMINSTER MARSHALL (7) 184-9 BY 4 WICKETS (REVISED TARGET 164)

IN-FORM Beaminster secured their third consecutive home win after beating high flying Sturminster Marshal in a rain affected game. The start was delayed after a heavy downpour reducing the game to 40 overs per side

The visitor's openers struggled to cope with th pace and bounce of Ross Baker and Adam Herring early on and were lucky to survive, and it was no surprise when the captain bowled Tony Lockwood as Sturminster struggled to 22-1 from 8 overs.

The heavens then opened again forcing the players off the field for an early tea Play resumed after a 30 minute interval with Sturminster's innings reduced to 39 overs.

M Woods (89) and C Brooks (66) then showed aggressive intent whilst compiling an excellent partnership with Beaminster bowlers struggling in the slippery conditions as run ups had to be reduced to avoid injury.

Ryan Sweetman (2-50) found some rhythm and broke the partnership as Beaminster fought back but at 170-3 a reasonable score looked on.

Pete Bustin (3-72) found bowling easier in his second spell as wickets started to tumble and with Herring (2-16 from eight overs), who now only plays very occasionally, showing he has lost none of his guile claiming 2-3 from his second spell, Beaminster soon polished off the tail.

With Dan Spiller taking two catches Beaminster were satisfied to reduce the visitors to 184-9.

With a revised target of 164 from 32 overs, openers Dan Hillier (36) and Hugh Rathbone (7) built a solid platform as Beaminster kept up with the scoring rate.

Baker then took up the challenge and batted determinedly with 9x4, 1x6 in his 73 not out to guide Beaminster past their target with just one over remaining; his third consecutive half century at the Memorial ground.

DORCHESTER 2ND (18) 152-4 BEAT WIMBORNE & COLEHILL 3RD (6) 187-7 BY 6 WICKETS (REVISED TARGET 151)

CHASING a revised target of 151 from 31 overs Dorchester 2nd's recorded their fourth win of the season with Eiron Fitzgerald securing victory with a boundary, and with it completing and unbeaten half century, with eight balls to spare.

Dorchester won the toss and elected to bowl first, but Wimborne's openers R Pilato (30) and O Woodrough (27) started well putting on 66 for the first wicket.

the bowlers with 3-19 off nine overs and Nathan Quinn bagged 2-31, although all bowled well. In reply Wimborne's opening bowlers Woodrough (0-17from 7) and M Barker (0-20 from 6) bowled tightly, but Simon Joslin and Malcolm Stroudley played well and put on 56 for the first wicket, before Joslin was out for 25 in the 17th over.

Stroudley (43) and Eiron Fitzgerald put on 35 for the third wicket before fitzgerald dominated the rest of the innings. Batting superbly he hit 3x4 and 4x6 to take Dorchester to their target.

County Division 4

ABBOTSBURY (6) 76 ALL OUT LOST TO DORSET INDIANS (20) 188 ALL OUT BY 95 RUNS (REVISED TARGET 171)

ABBOTSBURY crashed to a disappointing home defeat against Dorset Indian Tigers in a rain hit match.

A downpour delaying the start by an hour and reducing the game to 30 overs a side.

However, once the clouds had cleared Swans skipper Simon Pengelly had no hesitation in putting the away side into bat, with conditions expected to favour bowling.

Tigers' openers Sibin (11) and Sanin (25) made a steady start against Grafton Straker and Chas Duerdoth (3-20) until the latter broke through in the seventh over bowling Sibin. Left armer Jay Lintern (1-16) then bowled Sanin.

Off spinner Pengelly (1-24) produced a tidy spell that helped stifle the run scoring although the total moved on to the hundred mark before Chris Backhouse (1-49) had Asish caught by Pengelly.

Some ragged bowling, and cracking shots saw the Tigers total escalate, before Simon Allen (3-51) who was smacked for 34 in his third over found his mojo with three wickets which contributed to a late collapse, as Tigers were dismissed for 188 all out

In reply, chasing a revised target of 171 due to a further rain break, the hosts had a bright start with the first 4 overs yielding 29 runs, before Stuart Gill (6) was dismissed.

Abbotsbury suffered a double blow in the seventh over as the impressive Joseph (6-11) dismissed Pengelly (28) and the incoming Duerdoth (6), and then Steve Budd (2).

Backhouse (20 not out) and Nick Kneebone attempted to steady the ship but runs were proving difficult. Joseph then settled the situation when he yorked Kneebone (2) and then bowled Allen and debutant Ollie Adderley to complete a hat trick. Ducks were registered by each of the final five Abbotsbury batsmen as they folded to 76 all out.

PUDDLETOWN (6) 168 ALL OUT LOST TO CHARLTON DOWN (20) 144-4 BY 6 WICKETS (REVISED TARGET 142) CHARLTON Down completed the first half of the season, making it eight games unbeaten with a close six wicket victory in the rain affected derby against local rivals Puddletown.

Tim Orford (68) and Barry Knight (5) found the bowling of Matt and Dan Stevens challenging with the outside edge being regularly found but not going to a fielders hand.

Puddletown lost their first wicket, with the score on 28, with a brilliant run out by Jae Miller.

Lucas Állen joined Orford at the crease and decided that attack was the best form of defence smashing five fours in his first eight deliveries, with Orford playing the intelligent defensive supporting role.

The hosts score rattled along quickly to 98 after only twenty overs until Allen (52) was leg before to Javed Gill.

Adam Weir couldn't cope with the spin of Sam Roles (1-24) who was brilliantly snaffled at wide first slip with the score on 108-3.

A further rain break and then drinks break saw Orford and Mike Hoffman (21) add 52 quick runs and with the score on 160 a score in excess of 220 looked possible with over 10 overs remaining.

However, neither team could have foreseen the following overs as Puddletown collapsed from 160-3 to 168 all out; losing their last seven wickets for just eight runs in only 29 balls.

Marc Spurway (3-24) started the collapse having the impressive Orford caught behind by Rob Deadman for 68 and then captain Tommy Tucker (3-27) had Steve Chaldicott caught on the boundary by Matt Stevens and then trapped Mike Crabbe in front of his wickets.

Spurway then added the dangerous Mike Hoffman and Oliver Thompson to his tally who was victim of an outstanding catch by Jack Eveleigh running to the boundary to catch the ball over his shoulder.

Tucker then bowled the big hitting Chris Ascott and it was left to the returning Matt Stevens (1-26) to have Graham Heron well caught by the diving Roger Frapwell to complete the monumental collabse.

Various rain breaks meant that Charlton Down faced a revised score of 142 in 30 overs Openers Eveleigh (25) and Miller (21) gave the team a solid start, and the running between the wickets was instinctive, not having to actually call for a run at times.

The 50 run partnership was eventually ended with Heron taking a good catch behind off Chalidicott's first ball to remove the dangerous Miller, before Orford took a fine return catch to dismiss Eveleigh with the score on 65-2.

Nick Voss (17) and Roles added 30 quick runs in only four overs to push the score to 93-3 when consistent line and length of Chaldicott nipped out Voss.

Fight runs later Lucas had Frapwell leg before wicket, and Puddletown were sensing a similar collapse could be next at 101-4. However Roles (31no) and Matt

Stevens (23no) batted intelligently, and with their youthfulness turning singles into 2s on many occasions, the revised target was secured with three overs to spare.

Captain Tommy Tucker said: "The cliché of a good team performance was no truer in this victory as so many players contributed.

"The unsung hero of many teams is the wicketkeeper. Rob Deadman for us is so important, and like today in tricky wet conditions and playing on a wet outfield and an artificial wicket, his glove work was superb and once again no byes were conceded."

Jamie Stewart was the pick of the bowlers claiming 2-14 off seven overs whilst captain Matt Rimmer weighed in with three.

A number of run outs didn't help Martinstown as they looked to chase down a modest total, and only Rimmer with an unbeaten 44 made any impression with the bat.

SYMENE (4) 122 ALL OUT LOST TO BROADWINDSOR (19) 124-3 BY 7 WICKETS WITH persistent drizzly rain almost from the start, this game was about to be abandoned after tea.

However during tea the rain stopped and the sun started to peak through and the game was played to a conclusion with Broadwindsor running out conclusive winners, although it wasn't as easy as it appeared.

Despite the early loss of George Wyrill (3), caught off Ade Phillips, the experienced duo of Nick Skyrme (23) and Phil Hawkins (23) took Symene to 34 before Ryan Sweetman (1-22) removed Skyrme. The arrival of Liam Toohill saw Symene looking to accelerate as he dominated the third wicket partnership of 58 with Hawkins, scoring 42 (5x4). However the introduction of Francis Medley saw their chances diminish as he removed Toohill in a spell of 3-25.

Whilst Shaun Parkman hit a quick 18, it was Phillips' nagging line and delivery that won through in his second spell as he returned excellent figures of 4-19 off 7.5 overs to dismiss Symene for 122 all out.

With the rain stopped and the sun trying to break through the teams reappeared after tea, and Broadwindsor immediately lost a wicket; Jack Walklett bowled first ball by Symene skipper Graham Bartlett (1-11) in the second over with nothing on the board.

Toohill (1-11 from 8) kept the visiting batsmen on their toes and was rewarded by bowling Chris Park (21) with a beauty that swung late.

When Dan Hillier was caught off Kevin Pragnell (1-28) they were only halfway to their target, but solid performances from Joe Hawkins (34no) and Ross Baker (28no) saw Broadwindsor home with plenty to spare.

Skyrme said: "It was touch and go at tea whether to continue. It was good game played in the right spirit despite the conditions, and although they won quite comprehensively in the end, we kept them in check early on and thought we had a slight chance with three down."

Top batting performances: Ross Baker (Beaminster) 73 not out; Eiron Fitzgerald (Dorchester 2nd) 53 not out; Martin Langford Cattistock) 52; Lucas Allen (Puddletown) 52.

Top bowling performances: Simon Proffitt (Portland Red Triangle) 4-15; Ade Phillips (Broadwindsor) 4-19; (Ollie Lee (Cattistock) 4-25; Scott Males (Portland Red Triangle) 3-20.

Skills put to the test

THREE races held in steady light winds were run by Joe Joyner and Will Broom, including the Seamanship Trophy which demanded manoeuvres and exercises to add to boat speed skills and was the highlight.

New on the water for the Series races were two new design Hydren H2 dinghies, one sailed by the boat builder and one by club youth sailor Jake Stow. Jake has taken every opportunity to crew with experienced dinghy racers this season, and was pleased to beat designer Keith Callaghan in race one and come close behind him in race

Other youth members trialled the boats over the weekend and were impressed with performance.

Race Six of the Super Series, a two leg upwind/downwind course, saw Jon Turner take the lead from Cameron & Darrol Moss by 60 seconds in 47 minutes, with Martin Moore beating Chris Thorne to hold fourth place, and just pipped by Dom Bowns in third.

Race Seven was a three leg triangular course but still John & Richard held the lead from Cameron & Darrol who beat Dave Stubbs and Paul Aitken to take second by only 40 seconds.

The Seamanship Trophy, a race including sailing backwards, sailing without a rudder and performing a capsize, saw the fleet reduced to six entries.

Cameron & Darrol took part even though their RS 800 is almost impossible to sail without a rudder due to the balance required, and youth crew Max Whittome & Chet Gillespie shone to hold second place.

Race Officer Joe Joyner commented: "Cameron and Darrol took the lead but after missing the lifejacket pickup at the windward mark Tony Fastenedge's 505 with Jeremy White trapezing slipped past.

"At the gybe mark everyone removed their rudders and the really challenging leg began. The RS800 was struggling to head in the right direction and Dave Guthrie (Phantom) looked like he was making a comeback but the strong tide was taking him too far downwind.

"Then Martin More and his dad Neil overtook half the fleet and completed their 720 (a penalty double circle turn) capsize and reverse sailing to win the race.'

Assistant race officer Will added a comment: "Our prize for the best seamanship effort goes to Simon Ransome Williams and his 10-year-old daughter competing in their first cup race. "Simon's excellent dry capsize was at the cost of his daughter's dunking but saved valuable time to place them above the K1 (Hugh Duncan) and RS800 (Cameron and Darrol).'

Blake progressing after heel injury

PAUL BLAKE celebrated his selection for the Sep-tember's Paralympics in Rio last week by confirm ing that his niggling heel injury has virtually disappeared to the point that he was running a 200m race at Exeter last night. "It's great news; it's pretty well healed up now." Blake, the IPC World champion and double Lon-

2012 Paralympic medallist, has been troubled by plantar fasciitis and was due to receive extracorporeal shock-wave therapy last week, but it was decided that the process could delay his return to fitness even longer and instead was prescribed anti-inflammatory tablets which appear to have done

"The swelling has gone down, and although it hasn't cured the injury completely, it is 90 per cent better. I began training again last Friday with a fairly intense session and I felt no pain after it, which is really good.
"The race at Exeter is over 200m just to get the legs moving a bit. I just want to get back to running

It is a huge confidence boost for Blake who hails from Charlton Down.

As the T36 800m gold medal winner in Doha last autumn, he was one of the first 13 names for Rio when they were an-nounced last Wednesday and has been buoyed by re-sults from the IPC European Championships held in Grosseto, Italy recently where his two biggest rivals were below their best.

Russian Evgenii Shvetcov won both the 400m and 800m but both times were slower than Blake's best, with fellow Russian Artem Areftev finishing

Holly leads from the front

CHANTMARLE Holly Neill, who was given the honour of captaining the British team at the IPC European Championships in Grosetto, Italy, last week, turned in a captain's performance by winning bronze in the F40/41 discus event with a throw of 22.24m behind Renata Sliwinska of Ireland's and Niamh McCarthy.

This adds to her 2013 IPC World Championship

Fricker can't wait to get things going ward to the challenge starting with pre-season that began last night writes Stuart Broom.

The former Chard Town manager has not been idle during the break and has been busy contacting the current Bridport squad as well as seeking new recruits, particularly from his old club, to supplement those that have left St Mary's since the end of the last campaign.

Fricker told View Sport: "Four of last year's squad have left to join Portland United, and we wish them well, but I have been in contact with most of the others and they have indicated they would be attending last night's preseason training.

Experienced striker Mark Salter who didn't join the Bees until October last year and still finished 14-goal top scorer, has already signed which is a huge boost, and many of the squad's top players have indicated they will

One is Matt Condliffe who warmed up for training in the evening by winning the dad's

As expected several Robins players were expected to follow Fricker. Having been close to promotion from the Toolstation Western League First Division having finished third, several have decided they would like to try Premier League football.

Playmaker Andy Martin has already committed to Bridport. Others who attended preseason training are former Combe St Nicholas keeper Jason Hutchings who has been at Chard for three years, Ben Haines a pacey right wing back, also ex-Combe, and Leigh Bailey, a solid left-footed central defender.

Club captain George Chlopecki who has been at Zembard Lane since a young age is also attending; the centre back having returned after a long injury lay-off last season.

Two others are potential goalscorers. Left footed Luke Woodland who was signed on loan from Dorchester Town had a brilliant season with the Robins, whilst Ed Butcher was diminutive striker is quick and a livewire.

Talented Braeden Symes will also attend. The midfielder will assess the situation having had offers from a couple of other clubs

With Bridport running a third team this season; expected to contain mainly youth players making their way up the ladder; and the reserves, Fricker was hoping for a good turnout last night.

He was keen to point out that although there were a number of new players from his old club, he has warned them that they are not guaranteed a place and will have to work hard.

"Everybody starts with a clean sheet and will have to work for their place."

Fricker advised that he was bringing in a couple of coaches to help pre-season so that he and assistant Jason Behan can assess and talk to the players.

One of them will be James Smith, the former Sherborne Town, Westlands and South Petherton goalkeeper. He will not only coach the as emergency keeper cover.

Fricker is enthused by the challenge and said: "I can't wait to get going

The traditional comings and goings in the managerial hot seats during the closed season is gathering pace. Andy Loudon, after 19 years in the dug out at Netherbury is heading north to assist Karl Diment at South Petherton.

Heading in the opposite direction is Gordy Childs who has left Pethy Reserves to take the reins at Premier Division outfit Beamin-

Meanwhile, Lyme Regis are still seeking a manager to take charge of their newly formed Rovers (3rd) team. Anybody interested should contact LRFC secretary Rob Thom on 07723 614345.

The Seasiders begin their pre-season training on Thursday at 6.30pm at the Davey Fort. New players are more than welcome (please bring boots and trainers).
